ANNUAL REPORT 2018

MISSION AND VISION OF BCM

Mission

Buckhead Christian Ministry (BCM) provides life-changing services for individuals and families experiencing various stages of hunger or homelessness in Atlanta.

Vision

A community free of hunger and homelessness.

Letter from the President & CEO

October 1, 2018

Friends:

How can a person achieve self-esteem or self-actualization when the pantry is bare, the bills aren't paid, or worse? That's why we meet basic needs like food, clothing, and safe housing. This support allows families and individuals to stabilize their situation so that they can gain a sense of safety and belonging. Love can then flourish, confidence can grow, and dreams can be realized. Life moves upward.

When you donate, volunteer, or work at BCM you are helping people move upward to their best selves. You help lift people up to the full promise and potential of their God-given gifts.

As you will discover in this report, BCM went through a tremendous amount of growth and transition. Much more is on the way. With an average of 20,000 phone calls for assistance every month, the need for our life-changing services has never been clearer. We are working on scaling our reach and impact across the city, and we are confident that – with the right partnerships, more resources, and strategic growth – we can achieve our vision of a community free of hunger and homelessness.

At BCM, we acknowledge that God has a plan for each of us, so we act on that every day by loving our neighbors. We know life is difficult, so we walk alongside each other, sharing resources, guidance, and fellowship. As we look upward, we trust that God will guide us toward our vision, so that one day every Atlantan can be a strong contributing member of our community. Later in this report, you'll find a story of a neighbor in need turned Trustee and donor – a truly amazing transformation that you helped make happen!

Thank you for walking alongside us as we've walked alongside others. There is still so much work to do. We need you now more than ever. May the next 30 years of this ministry be filled with the love necessary to achieve our vision.

Upward,

HOUSING IN FY18

Joanna and her three children experienced homelessness after an eviction. They struggled finding a home due to a lack of savings, low income, and housing affordability. BCM accepted Joanna into Foundation 3 where she and her family secured safe housing. BCM paid for rent and utilities, coordinated furniture donations, assisted Joanna in retiring high-interest debt, and worked on successfully disputing her credit report. Through the program, Joanna updated her resume and improved her interviewing and job skills, which resulted in a promotion and pay increase. Today, Joanna and her children are still happily in their home and on a path to stability and strength.

“Budget for Life™ was very beneficial to me and my classmates. I use the concepts I learned to budget and stay on track. The most significant aspect of the program is that I now teach my children how to make budgets. They are growing up with good money management skills, and when they have their own children, they will pass along that knowledge. My time with BCM will influence generations of my family to come.”

REALIZE YOUR FULL POTENTIAL↑

PAYING IT FORWARD

At the age of 16, Jamie Butler found out she was having a baby. Despite the challenges she knew were ahead, she remained focused on her dreams. Jamie graduated high school and attended St. Paul's College. Taking her daughter with her to college, she earned her B.A. in Political Science in three years. Shortly after graduation, Jamie and her daughter moved to Atlanta.

Things took a turn for the worse. After losing her job, Jamie experienced repossession and then homelessness. She came to BCM for assistance and entered BCM's transitional housing program. Jamie said about her experience, "Ms. Eloise (Eloise Williams Bracey is BCM's Chief Programs Officer, then Director of Housing) really went deep with me. We had landed a job interview at a Buckhead law firm, but I had no way of getting to the interview. So, Ms. Eloise grabbed her car keys and said, 'Let's go!' I got the job and kept it for eight years. I went from making $7 an hour to $15."

Through your support of BCM, Jamie rebuilt her life.

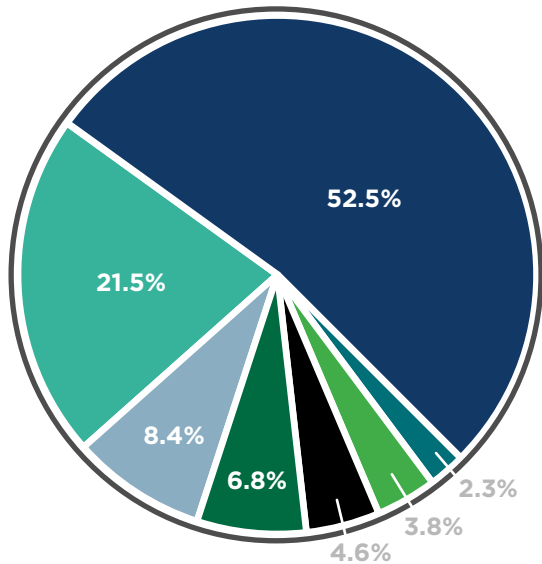

This was fifteen years ago. Today, Jamie has her M.A. in English and is a tenure-track professor at Atlanta Metropolitan State College and is pursuing her doctorate. Jamie is also an active BCM volunteer and a generous donor.

Jamie joined BCM's Board of Trustees in FY18.

BCM was extraordinarily successful in fundraising in FY18. Our strong cash position going into FY19 will allow us to increase our strategic reserves, invest in our capacity to serve more people, continue to modernize our operations, and achieve excellence in all we do.

“What the Budget for Life™ program is teaching me goes far beyond practical money management skills, it is that I am worth more than the instant gratification that comes from impulse purchases such as a $5 latte or a meal out. I am worth the lasting gratification of financial stability.”

The Seeds of Change Society honors philanthropic women committed to BCM's women and children in crisis by donating $500 or more per year.

Moving Upward

Let's keep moving upward, building on our foundation, which is solid rock. As we love, encourage, and support one another we must also transform individual and community patterns that allow poverty to thrive. Together, we can reach every neighbor in need of someone to walk alongside them. We can become the beloved community we are called to be. In the coming years, you will see growth and transformation at BCM. Our goals for FY19:

- Evaluate our programs and overall theory of change
- Grow emergency financial assistance to from 750 to 1000 households
- Modernize Budget for Life™, add new locations, and reach up to 50 families
- Expand Foundation 3 to provide supportive housing to 15 working families
- Double the size and renovate Thriftique and begin a donation pickup service
- Renovate the pantry and become a client choice operation
